I. AMERICAN HELD PRISONER IN PW CAMP AT VORKUTA (coordinates unknown), USSR.

SOURCE claims to have met a man in the PW camp at VOKURA (could be VORKUTA), in 1949, who told him that he was an American and member of the U.S. Army. He stated to SOURCE that he was kidnapped in VIENNA some time in 1949 while driving through the Eastern Sector of this city.

SOURCE described this man as between 45 and 48 years old, of average height, slim, and dark brown hair with a touch of gray.

The American was working in a coal mine at VOKURA together with other German political prisoners. SOURCE furthermore stated that this man spoke German fluently without a trace of an accent.

SOURCE met this man only on three occasions and then only for very short periods.

SOURCE stated that he might be able to identify this man on a photo.
